

Floating on a molten sea, mantle slabs, wild and free, a plate cotillion shocks the orb to change its perihelion.

An act of geodetic resolution as aged as the moments after the big bang and particle distribution.

An act signifying nothing to the galactic flight, but chaos to enfeebled man on his spectral sight.

The ocean purrs a slinking cat, eyes intent upon the prey, at first it laps the sleeping shore, then leaps its fury and display and pounces with its monstrous mass on any and everything in its path, all life, and non life, washed aside, Tsunami wreaks its total wrath.